Mr. Eugene Davidson, Editor
Yale University Press
New Haven 7, Connecticut

Dear Mr. Davidson:

Many thanks for sending me the page proofs of Graf Von
Kinskiel's The Shadow of Stalingrad.

The book is a well-written and thoughtful account of a dramatic and important episode in the war for control of man's minds. We can all learn much from it, and I feel sure that your Press is rendering a service to the country in making this generally available to the public.

For reasons you will doubtless appreciate, I have to adhere to a policy of not making comment for publication on books such as Von Kinskiel's. I would, however, be happy to have you pass on to him my compliments for having written a stirring and enlightening book.

Sincerely yours,
SIGNED
